Next Goal Wins short film

Cottage Cravings producer and director Randy Brown directs a scene with videographer Amy Durer of his short film on an air hockey game called Next Goal Wins. It's a one-minute spoof about the hockey game that has three sets of actors playing the game as they grow older. Wilson and Wesley Zealand start things off. Brown is entering the film in Toronto's Reel to Reel short film festival. Last year, Brown, a hockey nut, did a film on pond hockey.

Modelle Squad on Cogeco

It's makeover madness on TV Cogeco Sunday nights.

Unsuspecting women were ambushed on the street and given a makeover and photo shoot.

Family or friends had sent in their names and fashion director Anne Hopkins and Cogeco videographer Amy Durer found them. They took them into Urban Textures in Gravenhurst for a hairstyle, Holly Beard did their makeup and photographer Venessa Marie Dewsbury set up the glamour shoots around town.

The show runs Sunday nights at 8 p.m. The second of four episodes is on now. No. 3 airs this coming Sunday March 7 and No. 4 March 28. If you miss them go tvcogeco.com for the full schedule.

THANK YOU

We would like to express our thanks to everyone for all the love and support that we received during Bill's illness and passing. It was apparent that Bill was extremely loved and respected by the number of caring people who visited, called, assisted in his care, provided food and helped our family in so many other ways. Special thanks to Dr. D.G. Hillyard, the VON nurses, the staff of South Muskoka Memorial Hospital and to all of those who honoured Bill's life with cards, beautiful floral and donation offerings.

Gayle, Debbie, Diana and families
